

ROOMVENT 2024

APRIL 22-25
IN STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN

Healthy air together - where scientific and industrial advances meet the needs of society

Welcome to RoomVent 2024, the premier conference for ventilation professionals worldwide!

The conference brings together policymakers, designers, researchers, engineers, and other experts to exchange technical information, discuss new ideas, and explore the latest developments in HVAC and the built environment.

Organized by Swedvac (EMTF) in collaboration with Svensk Ventilation and Nordbygg, RoomVent provides an exceptional opportunity to network with industry representatives and attend the largest fair for construction planning in the Nordics.

The first international research conference RoomVent was held in Stockholm in 1987, organized by Scanvac. Since then, the conference has been held in several countries and has attracted great interest in the world of research and business.

Attend RoomVent 2024 and join the conversation that influences the development of the indoor climate throughout the world!

About the main organizer:

Swedvac (EMTF) is Sweden's largest non-profit organization for individuals associated with the construction sector. The members are engineers, technicians, students, researchers, sales people and others who work for a good indoor environment and energy-efficient buildings.

Meet spring in Stockholm

Spring in Stockholm is a magical time of year. As the long winter finally comes to an end, the city awakens with new life and energy. The streets and parks are filled with people enjoying the fresh air and the beauty of the season.

One of the best ways to experience spring in Stockholm is to take a stroll through one of the city's many parks. Kungsträdgården is a popular choice, with its stunning cherry blossom trees and lively atmosphere.

If you're looking for a bit of adventure, why not take a boat tour of Stockholm's archipelago?

Whether you're a foodie, an art lover, or an outdoor enthusiast, there's something for everyone in this beautiful city.
